Agenda

- Your Questions
- Effective Communication
- Administrative Requirements
- Program and Facility Accessibility

Suspect a Disability?

- What can or can't we ask at intake, or at any point in the program?
- What is the best way for teachers to approach learners if they suspect that a learning or physical disability is present?

Documentation

- Once a student has identified a disability, what/how should we ask for more specifics about that so that we can better understand how to help them?
- Documentation/liability in the event that a student is asked to leave because they aren't making progress.

Childcare

- We offer childcare to parents who participate in our program. How do they accommodate a child with a disability?

ADA Effective Communication

Ensure that communication with people who have disabilities is as effective as communication with others

Effective Communication

People who :

are blind or visually impaired

are deaf or hard of hearing or have a speech disability

People Who Are Blind or Have Low Vision

Communication with People Who Have Visual Disabilities

- Identify yourself (each encounter)
- Speak facing the person
- Describe who and what is there
- When leaving let person know
- Don't pet or distract the service animal

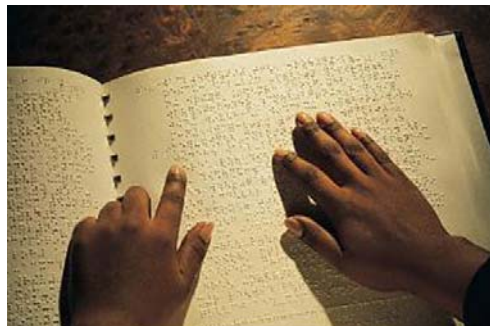

Effective Communication

Auxiliary Aids and Services

Must provide “auxiliary aids and services”

If necessary to ensure effective communication

Provide materials in Braille

Provide print material, thumb drive or email it

Email

Many people who are blind use screen reading technology

With audio input & output

With refreshable Braille

CCTV

Provide material in audio format

These are devices that people might use to access audio files.

MP3 Player

Smart Phone

Provide material in Large Print

Large Print

If individual makes request, provide in whatever size the person needs

For general use provide in 18 point font

People who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing

Communicating with People Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing

- Look directly at the person
- Get in person's line of sight
- Move to location with good lighting, avoid windows (glare)

Communicating

- Don't cover your mouth, chew gum or turn away
- Don't speak while person is reading or writing
- Provide pertinent information in writing

Use What You Have to Communicate

Try written notes

Timelines Scenario + Discussion

A potential student with a disability requests an auxiliary aid in accordance with the stated timeline - “Please request accommodations at least X days in advance.”

1. Is the program allowed to state timelines?
2. Can she be charged for the cost of the auxiliary aid?
- 3.

People Who Have Speech Disabilities

Communicating with People Who Have Speech Disabilities

- Give your full attention
- Don't interrupt or finish sentences
- Ask to repeat (once)
- Repeat back what you think the person is saying and ask him to confirm your understanding
- Ask person to write or type info

Communicating

- If you still don't understand - Ask the person if there's someone around who understands his speech
- If you still don't understand be honest

When providing an auxiliary aid or service, a program is required to provide what the person wants no matter how much it costs.

True or False?

Auxiliary Aids and Services Undue Burden

- Not required if they would result in undue financial or administrative burden.
- Consider all resources available for funding and operation of the service, program, or activity.
- Written statement by head of the entity or designee of the reasons for reaching that conclusion.

LC7

Web Accessibility

What does access mean:

- Be able to use website without a mouse
- Provide a text description for a pictures
- Use a text-based format, such as HTML or RTF

LC8

Web Accessibility

What does access mean:

- Design websites so the users can set color and font in web browsers and operating systems
- Use titles, context, and other heading structures to help users navigate complex pages or elements
- Minimize blinking, flashing, or other distracting features

End of Effective Communication

Next: Administrative Requirements

Administrative Requirements

1. Designate a responsible employee
2. Notify students, employees and the public about the program's compliance with the ADA
3. Adopt a grievance procedure
4. Carry out a Self-Evaluation
5. Develop a Transition Plan

Designate a Responsible Employee

- Usually called “ADA Coordinator”
- Rarely a full time job

Role of the ADA Coordinator

1. Ensure that people with disabilities have an opportunity to participate in programs, activities and services in a full, integrated and meaningful way.
2. Ensure that ADA violations don't occur OR are remedied if they do.
3. Serve as primary point of contact for ADA compliance for students, employees and the public

Role of the ADA Coordinator

4. Plan and coordinate compliance efforts.
5. Develop and distribute notice about ADA compliance.
6. Coordinate requests for auxiliary aids and services, such as sign language interpreters.
7. Respond to requests for reasonable modifications of policies, practices and procedures.
8. Develop a grievance procedure.

Role of the ADA Coordinator

10. Conduct a self-evaluation.
11. Develop a transition plan.

Notify about the ADA

- Program's compliance with the ADA.
- How to request auxiliary aids and services, modifications in policies.
- How to file a complaint.

Provide Notice

Where? How?

- Website
- Program brochures
- Event announcements
- Social media
- On bulletin boards in buildings
- Reports
- Radio and television public service announcements

Adopt a Grievance Procedure

- To resolve complaints.
- We recommend time frames and appeal process.

Carry out a Self-Evaluation

- Evaluate programs, services, and activities, and
- policies, practices and procedures to ensure inclusion of people with disabilities.
