

ASSESSMENT: Instructional Resources

Resource	Description
LESSON OBJECTIVES
Effective Lesson Objectives	Overview of the importance of lesson objectives to successful teaching and assessment. ( ThoughtCo.com )
Linguistic Scaffolds for Language Objectives	Helpful guidance for writing clear and effective language objectives , with examples related to English skills areas (S/L/R/W) ( Kinsella and Singer )
SELF-ASSESSMENT
Learner Self-Assessment Toolkit	Provides guidelines and tools to help instructors introduce or develop learner self-assessment activities. ( ELSA Net, Canada )
Assessment Matters: Self-assessment and "Can do" statements	A close look at options for structuring student self-assessment ( OneStopEnglish.com )
FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT
Formative Assessment Toolkit	Provides strategies for in-class formative assessment of authentic tasks related to real-world communication. ( ELSA Net, Canada )
A Way to Increase Students' Independence in Learning	A rationale for the value of formative assessment to motivate students' learning ( Edutopia )
Classroom Assessment Techniques	A collection of formative assessment strategies to evaluate student learning. ( UC Boulder Center for Teaching and Learning )
Inspiring Learners to Act on Formative Assessment Evidence	Strategies for evaluating learning evidence in partnership with students. ( NWEA )

ASSESSMENT: Instructional Resources

Resource	Description
SUMMATIVE ASSESSMENT
Authentic Ways to Develop Performance-Based Activities	Strategies for implementing and assessing performance-based activities. ( ThoughtCo.com )
Assessment (website full of helpful backward design resources)	A plethora of resources provided by Jay McTighe, the developer of the "Backward Design" approach to assessment. ( McTighe &amp; Associates Consulting )
Meet the Single Point Rubric	Helpful introduction to a simpler rubric that provides space for teacher feedback ( Cult of Pedagogy )